Caller criticizes us for not naming the St. Aloysius priest

The Sound Off about the Romulus St. Aloysius priest caused unnecessary confusion. It did not make clear that the priest in question is not the current priest.

The Sound Off referred to Fr. Walter Levuckowski, who is no longer there.

Please correct this.

An aquarium would be better than the old Belle Isle. Not!

The Belle Isle column ("Goodbye to the Belle Isle zoo," May 9, 2002) brought back memories.

I have lotsa pics from the forties and fifties with my family gathered around the fountain.

Everyone knows that an aquarium (really original) would be so-oo much better than the old Isle. Ha, Ha.

By the way, you forgot to mention ice skating on the Isle's canals in the winter. I haven't.

Caller claims candidate Grant won't sell out Republican voters

I'm disappointed that Rep. John Stewart lacked the character to switch parties.

Having cast the deciding vote against raising the cap on charter schools, he ought to join the Democratic party, where he belongs. He would fit in well with the MEA (Michigan Educational Association — the state's largest teachers union).

In contrast, Republican Jonathon Grant fits in with 20th District Republicans better than with the MEA, trial lawyers, and other Democratic special interest groups.

Republicans will not be sold out again if they vote for Grant in the Aug. 6 Republican primary.

The Romulus Roman

Former Romulus priest charged

By STEFANIE CARANO
MCN Staff Writer

Father Walter Lezuchowski, former priest of St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus, is being investigated for sexual misconduct involving children.

Lezuchowski, 69, has been placed on leave of absence and restricted from any public ministry in the Archdiocese of Detroit.

He served as pastor to St. Aloysius from 1978 to 1991, then resigned after a complaint was made against him. Following what was called "a credible allegation", according to a recent press release, he served the archdiocese on a restricted basis.

He was part-time chaplain at Crittenton Hospital in Rochester until the mid-1990's when he became chaplain at Ryan Correctional Facility in Detroit, also on a part-time basis.

According to Ned McGrath, archdiocesan director of communications, allegations against Lezuchowski involve activity from 20-plus-years ago. He was serving the Romulus parish during those years.

"Our primary concern is for the safety of children and the well-being of the community. That is why we are so thankful for the review by the civil authorities," said McGrath.

Monsignor Walter Hurley, in liaison with the prosecuting attorneys in the six counties of the archdiocese, said, "Although it was determined by an independent, non-Church evaluation that Father Lezuchowski did not represent a threat to anyone, what has happened here is certainly regrettable. Going forward, we can learn from this experience."

The archdiocese was among the first in the country to develop a policy on sexual misconduct with minor children by clergy when it published comprehensive guidelines in 1988. However, these guidelines did not include punishment by civil law.

Airport soundproofing program gains steam

By STEFANIE CARANO
MCN Staff Writer

G. Scott Roberts, Director of the Wayne County Sound Insulation Program, spoke before the Romulus City Council to give an update on the progress his department has made with installing noise-reduction equipment in Romulus homes.

The sound insulation program's new consulting firm, CNS Engineers, assessed 34 homes in April that were on the list to be worked on but had never been looked at.

An inventory of the heating, cooling and electrical system was performed and measurements were taken of windows and doors for design purposes. This was so CNS could draw up a plan and present it to the homeowner before bidding on a contractor to do re-design work.

According to Roberts, the sound insulation program has closed 91 homes since December. "Closed" means that the homes have been redesigned to reduce noise pollution and the construction is complete.

There are 81 homes that remain "open", meaning work has been done but is not finished. In these homes the sound insulation has been put in but there has to be some "adjustments."

One contractor the program is particularly having problems with is a company known as First Choice. "They did some shoddy work here in the program," said Roberts. First Choice currently has 42 homes that are open.

Other contractors have been working to improve the homes that were not finished. However, the program is having problems with homeowners letting them back in to finish the job. "We've tried to be very patient with these homeowners. It's been a long process, they've been through a lot," said Roberts.

While working on the homes, the Federal Aviation Administration has asked that quality-assurance inspections be conducted. They have hired Boston-based Jones-Paine to perform the inspections while operating out of downtown Romulus.

According to Roberts, there are approximately 180 homes that have not had any work done or the work is incomplete.

Roberts listed three factors that prevented the sound insulation program from moving forward in the past. One was too many consultants- too much money was spent on an unnecessary number of consultants. Another was non-flexible designs- many contractors used a single design for all the homes that they assessed whether they were historical or contemporary. A third was lack of communication between the contractors and the sound control program.

Roberts has been director of the program for five months. The previous director was there a year and a half.

Roberts stated that the program is now making great progress. The new consultant (CNS) is one of the top two in the country for sound insulation design.

"We're able to take care of (resident) needs, get the home done, not any additional items just what was in the contract," said Roberts of the program.

In the mid-1980's it was decided to begin a noise mitigation program to reduce noise levels in houses surrounding Detroit Metro Airport. After the completion of a sound study in 1992, the Wayne County Sound Insulation Program completed sound control work in schools, then moved on to area homes.

According to Roberts, they first began working in Huron Township because the sound study determined that 70 percent of Metro Airport planes took off to the south and planes taking off from the airport, it was determined, created the most amount of noise. Huron Township is south of the airport. Romulus City Council disagreed with the program initiating in Huron Township.

The newly added runway has caused additional noise for those immediately surrounding the airport.

"Wayne County told us it would only be for wide-bodied planes," said Councilman William Wadsworth. Roberts said he had not heard of that promise and that all kinds of planes use the new runway.

Councilman Leroy Burcroff motioned to request that the FAA look at the additional runway re-consider the changes in the flight pattern as to how it affects noise in Romulus. The motion was passed by the council that a letter will be sent to the FAA with copies going to state and federal elected officials.

Any residents who still have questions or concerns about the Sound Insulation Program can call Scott Roberts at: 734-753-2205.

Kashamo Fields Fields faces six counts

Judge Brian Oakley closed his courtroom to listen to testimony from a thirteen year old girl. The child, who is unnamed due to minor status, told Oakley about alleged abuses she suffered when Kashamo Fields lived with her mother.

Fields, age 27, was arrested by Romulus PD on April 26, after receiving a warrant from the Wayne County Prosecutor. The warrant was issued after the victim told her father that Fields had been having sex with her since the age of 11. Although Fields broke up with the mother of the young girl, he continued to visit the home and have sex with the child.

Beginning at age 11, Fields allegedly abused the young girl, having sex with her for more than two years, beginning in November of 2000 and continuing until December of last year. Speaking in quiet tones, the girl described to the court the encounters with Fields on more than one occasion spanning that time period. Appearing frightened, but supported by family members, she testified about the abusive relationship and how Fields molested and raped her.

Gregory Demopolous, defense attorney for Fields questioned the young victim, gently prodding her memory in regard to the allegations, hoping to cast doubt on her version. However, Oakley found cause based on finding of facts to bind Fields over for trial on 6 counts of criminal sexual conduct, sending Fields to trial based on those charges, in the Wayne County courts.

Driver arrested after gun is found in car

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

There is nothing ever “routine” in law enforcement, as law officers will tell you.

When Wayne police officer Crystal Young spotted a driver at 9:15 p.m. Sunday traveling approximately 70 miles per hour on westbound Michigan Avenue she immediately gave pursuit. The driver, also operating the vehicle erratically, refused to heed the officer's warning to stop, and the pursuit continued until the two vehicles came to Newburgh Road.

Officer Young got out of her vehicle, and cautiously approached the suspect's car. She noticed that the driver had reached into a bag and appeared to be looking for something.

Young approached the driver-side and, after exchanging routing dialogue, noticed that the driver was slurring his words. She invited him to get out of the vehicle and also requested that he take a sobriety test. The blood alcohol content read .16. In Michigan, a person is considered intoxicated if the blood-alcohol content is .10.

The Wayne police officer placed the suspect under arrest

“We are very fortunate that this incident ended the way it did.”

after she advised him of his rights. She then returned to the suspect's vehicle and a search uncovered a 9 mm handgun.

The suspect, later identified as Richard Brownlee, 27, of Canton Township, was conveyed to the police station where he was fingerprinted and booked on drunk driving and weapon's charges. He was scheduled to be arraigned on Tuesday on charges of driving while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage and possession of a concealed weapon.

“We are very fortunate that this incident ended the way it did,” said Wayne Police Chief Mike Sumeracki. “We can never be too cautious when we are on duty. You never know what is on the mind of someone you stop to question.

“There is a saying in our profession that there is nothing routine in police work,” Sumeracki added.

Window on Wayne

By RICHARD L. STORY
Wayne Historian

I sincerely want to thank those who offered our readers their insights and personal experiences with Bendix Corporation last week.

It helps a lot to know there are people who care and will take time to offer pertinent information about their experiences on subjects that we are writing about, and what I am trying to convey here to you. It is always helpful to have helpful people reading your column.

I was not around during World War II, and it must have been challenging for those who were. They truly, as one author has noted, belong to “The Greatest Generation”. Again, I encourage all to share their stories about the war, or any other period in history with me.

I would like to share my recent research on the following information:

The Bendix Corporation
The U. S. Government purchased the old Graham-Page Factory, remodeled and enlarged the building, then leased it to the Bendix Corp who, in turn., did produce Military Aircraft landing struts.
The Norwayne Housing Project:

There had been a roomer in this area that Norwayne was a temporary project. Research will show that this is not true. Norwayne was build as a permit project - look to the wet plaster walls, hardwood floors and a gas fired furnace for hard proof of that.

Norwayne was the second largest housing project in the U.S. at the time and was built in conjunction with the Willow Village Project in Ypsilanti and Cleaver Project in Inkster. Incidentally the latter two were constructed as temporary housing facilities.

The Federal Housing Authority (FHA), with the Federal Works Agency, started construction on the Norwayne Project in 1942 as a permanent project. The project had 1,189 residential units; 1,900 single-family units; a shopping complex, an Administration Office, fire station, warehouses and two schools. The cost at the time to build the project was approximately $2 million, and the project's board of directors had a monthly $68,000 budget to maintain the housing..

The following is from July 1943 to November 1945 when the project was 95 percent occupied. There were 5,000 families who called the project their home; 20,000 individuals lived in the project of whom 912 were civilians; 16 military personnel; 990 veterans; and would you believe that only 50 percent of the families, on an average lived in the project for only six months?

The three projects were constructed to house workers for the war effort. Most worked on the Assembly Plants that produced the war machine that crushed Nazi Germany and Hirohito's Japan.

The manager of the Norwayne Housing Project was a Mr. P. D. Graham who served in that capacity from April 12, 1945 to September 10, 1947. Then, a Mr. Rowland Rathbun was assigned the job, from Sept. 1, 1947 to 1950. On July 27, 1947, President Harry S. Truman, the 33rd President of the United States, signed Reorganization Plan No. 3. This plan consolidated and integrated the Federal Public Housing Authority to Public Housing to allow the sale of homes in federal housing projects to private residents.

There were other projects such as the Wayne Park Romulus Housing and Willow Village. Wayne Park, Forest Street and Howe Road, considered at the time as part of Norwayne, had six dormitories, three of which housed males, the other three were reserved for females. There was also a community center, trailer park, and this actually was constructed as a temporary housing project so that workers who labored at the Wayne County Airport or Romulus Field and the Army Air Force Base on Northline would have housing.

The Willow Village in Ypsilanti Township was built to accommodate the thousands of workers who worked at the Willow Run Bomber Plant. In 1942, it is estimated that 42,331 workers were employed at the Bomber Plant.
If you drive through Willow Village and Cleaver Projects today, you can still see homes standing that look just like the homes built in Norwayne. Streets still are set up as they were built in the 1940's. It would be a drive back into a unique period in the history of our country, our area.

Ex-Detroit police chief to address local Democrats

Former Detroit Police Chief Benny Napoleon, who seeks to be the next Wayne County Executive, will address members of the Western Wayne Democratic Club.

The program is scheduled for 7 to 9 tonight, May 23, at the UAW Local 900 Hall, 38200 Michigan Avenue.

Napoleon, who served as police chief under the Archer Administration in Detroit., is one of four candidates seeking the Wayne County Executive's Office. The others include Robert Ficano, Wayne County Sheriff, Ricardo Solomon, who is the chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, and State Senator Joe Young, Jr.

Mark Blackwell, a longtime member of the club, says that residents are invited to meet and hear Napoleon, “and ask him the tough questions about the county and the things he will do to make it better.”

There is an Aug. 6 primary which will narrow the field of four to one candidate who then will challenge the Republican candidate for the job. However, since Wayne County is a stronghold of the Democratic Party, the Democratic Party nominee is a virtual shoo-in to win the office.

Mature drivers workshop is set

Local senior citizens will have an opportunity to learn new strategies for dealing with today's road conditions and drivers at a “Mature Driver Workshop” offered by the Wayne Senior Activity Center in cooperation with the Wayne Police Department.

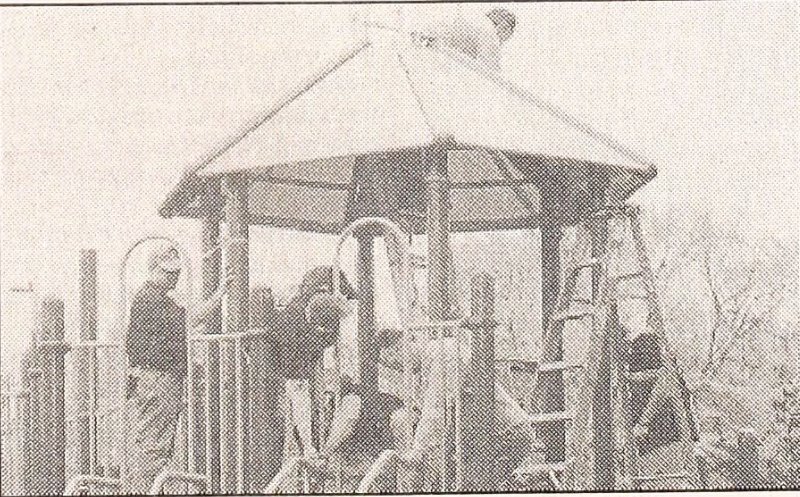

The workshop will be staged from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. on June 3, 4, and 5 at the Senior Center, 35000 Sims Avenue.

Participants are urged to register by telephone 734-721-7460. The workshop is free to Wayne residents. Non-residents are asked to pay a $20 registration fee.

Organizers stress that the Mature Driver Workshops offered by the Traffic Improvement Association are designed to help the mature driver self-evaluate his or her driving skills. Each workshop will consist of two four-hour sessions held on consecutive days. The third day is a one-half hour on-the-road and Useful Field of View evaluation.

All information is confidential.

Community efforts

Volunteers from all walks of life came together last week to construct two new playstructures, one in Goudy Park (pictured above) and a second at Kiwanis Park. The Wayne Parks and Recreation Department organized fundraisers and received donations to build the play stations that will benefit the families who visit the parks. Volunteers constructed the new playstructures. Parks and Recreation officials this week said that they would like to “thank all who volunteered their time to work on the structures and to make these projects a success.” They also had a special “thank you” for the Wayne Rotary Club and the Wayne Civitans who provided lunches at both parks for all of the workers.

Soundproofing proceeding; Sumeracki working hard

Bill Garrett, owner of Garrett Glass in Wayne, popped in the office last week to say two things. First take a break from work and see the new Star Wars prequel. Then the converted workaholic, now cancer survivor, expounded upon the importance of health.

It caught me off guard. Although I've known of Garrett, I never considered him a friend. But his words really struck home. So often we are guilty of running our lives at such a fast pace, we never stop to "smell the roses," or as Garrett suggested, so the latest hot movie.

In the case of the Star Wars prequel, I encourage readers to select a different movie. This one is slow, slow and long. But his message about one's health is so important. I've never had a serious health problem, but many of us have, and we all learn in due time, the health and family are more important than anything else in this world.

I think Romulus homeowners can breathe a sigh of relief now that Scott Roberts is on the job leading the noise mitigation effort for the county. Has been in front of City Council twice in the last few months, and if his reports are correct, major improvements in that program are taking place.

The scorecard reads 91 homes finished since December; another 81 homes that have had work started but not completed; and 180 homes on the list that have not had any work done. Finally after nearly ten years and dozens of horror stories detailing crappy work, we are getting somewhere.

Roberts detailed three reasons why the program had been stuck in muck. First, he said there were too many consultants siphoning the money for the program. Secondly contractors were not flexible, trying to use a single design for all homes. And finally, there was a lack of communication between contractors, homeowners and the sound control program.

Roberts has eliminated the third excuse and deserves our praise.

Wayne Police Chief Mike Sumeracki deserves credit for leading the charge in support of the new police station proposal. Sumeracki has been all over town and this newspaper detailing numerous reasons why voters should approve a $7.2 million package to build a new station at Michigan and Howe.

Most importantly, he has asked all who will listen to give him a call or stop by for a tour of the current station that he insists lacks privacy and space to do police business adequately.

I like this in a leader. I so often lament that school board members, or even superintendents fail to actively campaign for millage proposals they place in front of voters. My feeling becomes, if our leaders don't want to stick their necks out, why should voters reach in their pockets.

Sumeracki's neck is as long as an ostrich. He's stuck it out so all can chop it off. Obviously he believes in a new police station and is doing all he can to convince voters to pass along the cash.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

Cops threaten home-schoolers

Too often I've seen the future and the future is California.

Beatniks, hippies, skateboarders, health food, free love, LSD, property tax revolts, O.J. and Ronald Reagan.

California was, is, and will be the land of foolish fads.

That's California's fault. Michigan is only at fault when we follow the fads. Like when Michigan followed California's property tax revolt by adopting Proposition A, a tax shift that cost us local control of schools and artificially inflated the price of new homes.

While it's seven years too late to stop Michigan from following Gov. Engler's Proposition A shell game, it's not too late for Canton and Wayne County to stop another fad: a crackdown on home schooling.

Rattled by home-schooled students' superior performance to public school students on scholastic tests and college acceptance rates, California's Alameda and San Juan school districts began a new fad: going to court to use California's compulsory schooling laws against home-schooled students.

Readers of this column may recall that I reported when the Alameda district retaliated against a home-schooled student who placed second in the National Spelling Bee (a contest won by another home-schooled student) by charging the pupil and her parents with truancy.

"If you can't beat them, jail them," I remarked.

Last year, San Juan pressed charges against a home-schooled boy with Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder and his parents. According to World Net Daily, the parents withdrew the 10-year-old boy from public school after a school-sponsored student court harassed him with a series of student-court-ordered suspensions.

Bad publicity finally shamed the district into dropping the charges.

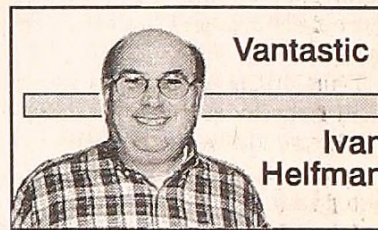

But not before the truancy law fad had spread to Wayne County, where Prosecutor Mike Duggan has decided to give it to Michigan's public school lobby as a tool to torment and jail home-school students with tickets, fines, probation, and possibly prison time.

Worse, Canton Township plans to hand the same tool to Plymouth-Canton, Van Buren, and Wayne-Westland schools.

"Education is up to parents, not to the state," said Tom Bowles, a home-school father.

Nevertheless, Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro plans to ask the township board to get on board the truancy law fad.

"It is the habitual truant we will go after," said Santomauro. "Our ordinance would not allow us to take enforcement against home-schooled students."

Vantastic

Perhaps not with Santomauro as police chief, but nothing in the ordinance would prevent a future Canton police chief from intimidating home-school parents to gain political support from Michigan's powerful education lobby.

Back in the eighties, the U.S. Department of Education's "A Nation at Risk" report warned Americans about their failing public schools, whose destruction was compared to an act of war — and this was before Detroit schools started rationing toilet paper. Since then, home-schooling, with at least 1.3 students, has surfaced as the only widely successful reform.

Neither Canton police nor Wayne County deputies should be provide SWAT teams to protect tenured public school teachers, counselors, custodians, and administrators' jobs from needed educational reform.

Trades not illegal, says CMS

While admitting its revenue has been overstated by $4.4 billion over the last two years, CMS Energy maintains it has done nothing illegal.

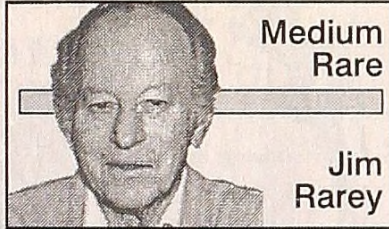

Last week the company disclosed it has engaged in "round trip" energy transactions with several other energy companies including Reliant Energy in Texas. CMS is the parent company of Consumers Power, supplier of energy to millions of Michigan residents.

Round trip transactions are shams where one company sells a stated amount of energy (which is never delivered) to another company that turns around and sells the same amount back at the same price.

One of the effects is to overstate real revenue. Another effect, so far ignored by the media and regulators, is to overstate costs by the same amount.

The disclosures came as a result of letters sent to 150 energy companies by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC). The letters detailed a number of questionable practices in which Enron has engaged. Companies were required to respond, under penalty of perjury, whether they were engaged in any of those practices.

A growing number of companies, including CMS, have come forward with public disclosures as a result. The round trip transactions appear to be common in the industry.

Medium Rare

The companies claim the only effect of the transactions is to make it appear the companies are doing more business than they really are. Surprisingly, at least so far, investigators and regulators have not challenged that view. They say the practice does not affect profit. This writer is not so sure about that.

In Michigan late last year, state regulators approved a new billing procedure for energy companies. Under the old method there was a cap on the price that could be billed to consumers. Under the new method companies are supposed to bill customers only for what the energy cost them plus a charge for delivery of the energy (gas and electricity).

If the inflated revenue did not result in any profit or loss on those round trip transactions, then costs have been overstated by the same amount as was revenue. The question then is were those inflated costs passed on to consumers as if they were real costs?

Hopefully, someone in Lansing has been looking at that aspect of the transactions. So far there has been no indication they are.

As to whether CMS and other companies have broken the law, without question the answer is yes. It is a criminal offense to knowingly furnish false information to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) which CMS and other companies have been doing for at least two years in required quarterly and annual reports.

The companies also could be open to civil suits from investors who relied on the false information in making investment decisions. Stocks in the implicated energy companies have all lost close to half of their value if not more.

The head of the CMS division responsible for the trades has resigned. She came to CMS from Reliant Energy, one of CMS' partners in the sham trades.

Two Reliant executives have also resigned. Their departures may make it easier to cast them as scapegoats as more questionable practices are uncovered, as some believe will be the case.

Government should be embarrassed

I received several phone messages about last week's column, concerning my ranting and raving over tax increases. Some agreed, some didn't.

Some said you have to have money to pay for everything. Some said big government wastes too much money and shouldn't try to pay for everything.

I still believe anytime the government asks for more money, they are saying, we had all this money, someone screwed up, and now we need more.

It should be an embarrassment for politicians year after year to continually say we are incompetent and we need more of your money.

My friend, Gino the Mailman, said the roads at the new Metro Airport terminal already have cracks in them, and that they are only three months old. He thinks that if all the money spent on roads over the last 10 years were added up, taxpayers would be shocked. They would feel they have not received their money's worth.

I talked to Lemon James, a local guitarist and regular reader of this column, who worries that I might be letting the little things in life upset me.

I reassured her that I'm OK and love life, but often worry about people in our community. I worry they let little things in life upset them too much, but big things don't upset them enough. I hate to see people getting pushed around, cheated, and ripped off.

Speaking of Lemon James, I heard from former MCN writer Peter James, no relation, who now lives in Dallas and reads this column on the Internet. Peter, who wrote a column about greasy spoons, will be excited to hear Bray's is now serving Krispy Kream Donuts. He also thinks I should mention his name more often.

Seems to me I have a pile of messages from people who want their names in the column: Angela Todd, Bob Stockdale, Bob Harris, wrestler

Caller wants candidates to run for office in Westland to boost morale

If only more people knew what Westland's city workers know, it would make for one interesting story. [Allegedly,] morale is down in every building, and confidence is lacking for most of the Westland residents.

I hope a few good people are not scared away from running for public office because we need some representatives that will be strong for the people's sake. No more token yes men.

If you like to live with your head in the sand and your wallet wide open, then Westland is the place to be.

Columnist apparently don't know nothing 'bout Plymouth-Canton schools

It was quite a stretch for Ivan to criticize the way history is taught at Plymouth-Canton schools, based on the results of the National Assessment of Educational Progress history test ['Don't know nothing 'bout history,' May 16, 2002].

Ivan must know that Plymouth-Canton students did not take this test.

I can only conclude that Ivan don't know nothing about logic.

Public safer dictates that we report about dis-charged Catholic priest

I am amazed at the ostrich response of this paper failure to report recent events of a Catholic priest assigned to a Romulus parish, who was discharged for inappropriate relations with children.

My sister was married at this church by this man, and has two children that are among the parishioners.

Your response to publish only selective stories about what goes on in Romulus ignores your responsibility to public safety (and here that safety is about children), and diminishes the importance of your role as this Michigan Community's Newspaper. Romulus is not a safer place because of you.

Westland City Council should have held sanitation millage study session

Gentleman, where is your business sense?

Three councilman in Westland are business owners and yet they have no problem with throwing good money down the drain on an overpriced trash contract.

Don't act like you want to learn more details after you voted to move ahead with a millage proposal knowing the council never had a single study session on this issue?

Mr. Pickering, you may feel that you have everything under control, including our new mayor, but your leadership is lacking greatly.

Don't blame citizens for being misinformed when you haven't educated yourselves.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Cox candidacy 'takes the cake'

To the editor:

I can't believe that someone who not only was recalled, but recalled by one of the largest turnouts in an election that was not a presidential election, would not only have the nerve to run but run against such a popular opponent as Glen Anderson.

I knew that David Cox was an arrogant person, he proved that over and over at council meetings, as well as at school board meetings, but this takes the cake.

Someone suggested that maybe this was his contribution to turning the attention from the controversy that has continued at Westland City Council meetings.

If this is the case, I doubt it will work. When will these politicians learn that just because people closed their eyes and ears for many years that they would never wake up again.

Well, the citizens of this city are awake, and I do believe that the other cities included in the 18th District are well aware of what has been happening in the past 2 1/2 to 3 years.

It may not have made national headlines or even much coverage in the Detroit papers, but word of mouth speaks for a lot. And believe me, I personally have been using the oral express, especially after the outrageous actions of certain city employees towards me personally — but that's another story.

Ford should live up to its commitments

To the editor:

I read in the business section in Sunday's Free Press (May 12) that at the shareholders meeting William Clay Ford Jr. said that everything is going well, on track, and working well.

Bill, you need a reality check. Everything is not going well — not working at all.

The stock price is in the teens. Quality is down. New products are mediocre, at best. Morale is down.

Your team is not performing. Why don't you see if Nick and Jim will take special buyouts? That would put the plan in progress.

All the salary people you took insurance from would like to thank you. It gives you more money to spend on different programs and advertising, instead of living up to your commitments.

Sincerely,
Wayne Mirth

Student car advances in competition

By BRENDA GRACIN
MCN Special Writer

Wayne-Westland's Career-Tech Center students have once again shown they can compete with their concept car creations and come out on top.

Daimler-Chrysler sponsors the Build Your Dream Vehicle competition in the Midwest. Students designed, built, advertised, and presented a car.

John Glenn vocational students began with a concept of creating a car that would appeal to 18-24-year-old buyers, and came up with the Dodge Fury, a sports car featuring a diesel-electric hybrid engine, futuristic safety and ergonomic technology, and a fuel economy of 75 miles per gallon.

Project CEOs Shane Fiondella and Jim Rawson were on hand at Career-Tech Center Wednesday night.

"We decided we wanted to reach the younger buyer, the first time buyer," said Rawson.

"Not only do we have to do the design for the car," said Fiondella, "we have to plan marketing, we have to deal with all financial aspects, all the safety and environmental features, and the ergonomic features of the vehicle."

Career-Tech Center students built all parts for the car in their classroom shop.

The center's media production students produced commercials targeting the younger market with music, extreme sports, and a little touch of comedy.

Auto body, computer aided design, electronics, graphic design, media production, auto tech, welding technology, and printing technology students built and marketed the car, coached by Susan Wilks.

With over 30 entries from 11 Midwestern states, the John Glenn students' Fury advanced to the May 29 regional competition, where they will make an oral presentation, defend their design and research, and present their marketing techniques.

"Our vehicle is the best that we've ever designed," said Fiondella. "The other students are the best I've ever worked with. They are talented and have all become my friends."

Four years ago, Career-Tech Center students presented their first model in the competition. Two years ago they took second place with a car called the Marquette.

Van Buren honors 'Outstanding Artists'

By BRENDA GRACIN
MCN Special Writer

Van Buren named five elementary and middle school students of the month for May or "Outstanding Artists."

Steven Sherman, 12, North Middle School, won for his artistic ability and maturity.

"He is always willing to lend a hand," said Onuma. Onuma, his teacher.

Katy Orr, 12, South Middle School, is creative, polite, and cooperative.

"Katy is very serious about her art work, she strives to do a very complete and accurate job," said Ms. Moore, her art teacher.

David Tasker, age 10, Edgemont Elementary School, works hard, accepts advice, and adventurous.

"He is an independent thinking student," said Mr. Steyaert, his teacher. "He is a great artist and a real pleasure to teach."

Achaia Campbell, 10, Elwell Elementary School is a focused student.

"Achaia is a very talented artist," said Ms. Buckosky, her teacher. "She's willing to go the extra mile spending time and care in making a beautiful product."

Jeffrey Woodford, 9, Haggerty Elementary School, arrives in class ready to learn, gives an extra effort, and creates beautiful, detailed art.

"Someday Jeff will be a famous artist and I will be happy and proud to say I knew him when," said Ms. Kauffman, his teacher.

Ivy Haralson, 10, Savage Elementary School, creates personal art.

"Her art is so unique in someone her age," said Mrs. Buckosky, her teacher.

Memorial High accredited

The North Central Association of Colleges inspected Wayne Memorial High School and extended the school's accreditation.

"Wayne Memorial has met the standards considered to be imperative for effective education and is working to improve performance for all students," said Donald Chastain, Wayne Memorial High School principal.

To be accredited, Memorial had to meet NCA's standards in academics, classrooms, and several other criteria.

NCA accreditation is separate from state accreditation.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF INKSTER

Don Barden, 'The Toast of Inkster'

They came from all walks of life, hundreds of them to "roast" Don Barden, but instead, even though sharp-tongued, quick-wit multi-millionaire Chief Executive Officer of Barden Companies, Inc., taunted them "to come on roast me, you chickens," few accepted the challenge.

Instead, the masses greeted their favorite son, a product of Inkster and the Inkster Public School system with a "toast".

Barden, flanked by his wife, the gregarious Bella Marshal-Barden, and their daughter, was the main attraction of the 2002 Khamalaw H. White Foundation Scholarship Awards banquet held on Saturday at the Hathorne Valley Country Club.

"There is no way we can 'roast' our native son," said Judge Sylvia James, of the 22nd District Court. "Let us all then raise our glasses, instead. - A toast to Don Barden."

And that toast made by some 300 persons who attended the fundraiser echoed throughout the afternoon.

When one speaker reminded the crowd that, because Barden had 12 siblings, "that there was always a Barden in the Inkster Public Schools," Barden countered with "and there still is."

There were congressman, state senators, state representatives Wayne County commissioners - name it they were there. The only one who didn't show up for the fete was Dennis Archer, the former mayor of Detroit who refused to deal Barden into the Casino game in Detroit.

"By the way, Mayor Archer sends his regards," John Arnold, the toast-master informed Barden. Barden just laughed.

Through the Kam White Foundation, of which Barden is a vice president, the foundation has managed to fund scholarships for scores of graduating high school seniors. This year's recipients included: Michael Anthony Bell (Belleville), Marcella Coats (John Glenn), Ebony Wallace (John Glenn), De-fausha Hampton (Mercy High), DeJuan Allen (Inkster High), Cassandra Holdsclaw (Inkster High), Anthony Street (Inkster High), Alexxiss Jackson (Mercy) Brandon Dickerson (John Glenn) and Anton Allison (Inkster High).

Don Barden, toast of the town.

The Foundation was created to honor the memory and the work of Khamalaw H. White, an icon in the Inkster community who touched the lives of thousands of youngsters as an education-track coach and athletic director. Mr. White also coached Don Barden.

Barden who was awarded the Inkster Cable TV franchise constructed the system, then went on to build the cable TV networks in the cities of Romulus and Detroit as well as Van Buren Township. The CEO of Barden Companies also is the owner of the Majestic Star Casino, Waycor Development Company and Barden International, Inc., in Namibia, Africa. Barden also recently acquired the Fitzgerald Casino Hotel with properties in Las Vegas, Mississippi, and Colorado. His corporate offices are in Detroit.

"And that, we hope someday will change," Inkster Mayor Hilliard Hampton, Jr. informed Barden as he presented him with a Key to the City of Inkster.

"Use this key to open the doors of businesses in Inkster," said the mayor.

Barden, for the first time in the afternoon, didn't have a quick reply.

He did however say later: "How do I want to be remembered? Let my legacy be that I was willing to help people."

Sorority sponsors credit workshop for women

Give the women credit. Some will, and some won't. Wonder why?

To get the answer to this and many other questions about finance, and to ensure that women do get credit, when needed, financial credit that is, a local sorority is hosting a workshop this week.

The Inkster Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. will present important information to women about personal financial at a "Credit Workshop for Women." The workshop will be conducted from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Saturday, June 1, at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Center, 2025 Middlebelt Road, north of Michigan Avenue in Inkster.

The program will feature presentations from Glinda Bridgeforth, author.

The program will feature presentations from Glinda Bridgeforth, author of the book "Girl, Get Your Money Straight", Rita Hill, Director of the Detroit office of Fannie Mae and Maryann Lee, Deputy Director of the Detroit Branch of the NAACP. Also on the program is Gail Perry-Mason, author of the book "Money Matters for Families."

Topics will include:
* Predatory lending practices in the African American community;

* Money management for families;
* Efforts to boost home ownership in the African American community;
* The joy of living within your means.

Organizers say that there are no costs to attend the event, however, since seating is limited they would appreciate pre-program registration. To RSVP, please call the Inkster Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. The office may be reached by telephoning 313-438-0760.

Light refreshments will be served.

Wayne holds Mega-White title in its hands

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It's no secret that Wayne Memorial will leave the Mega Conference for the Western Lakes in the fall.

And, it also is no secret Coach Tom Wakefield and the Zebras would like to depart from the conference with the Mega-White Division's title.

Boasting an 8-1 divisional record and beginning the week in first place, Wayne holds the key in hand to the trophy case. But, they also could drop it. Here's Wakefield to explain:

Wakefield 'We need to win 2 more games'

"We need to win two of our next three games to win the title. It's not going to be easy, because Kennedy, the only team to beat us (in the division) is sandwiched between the two other opponents (Wayndotte and Carlson). If we want the title, we need to get the job done by ourselves."

Wayne survived a hectic week last week during which the Zebras carded two crucial one-run victories. If those decisions had gone the other way, Wayne would have been out of the title picture completely.

Wayne came from behind twice to edge Allen Park, 7-6, on Wednesday as the Zebras broke a 6-all deadlock with a top of the seventh run, then held on to win.

In the seventh, Wayne's Andy Caldwell lead off with a double to left center. Wakefield called for pinch-runner Brent Newsted to take Caldwell's place on second. Then, Tony Collop hit a sharp grounder which was mishandled by the infielder and allowed Newsted to score with what proved to be the winning run.

Wayne pounded 12 hits, three of those by Caldwell who collected a pair of two-baggers, a single and scored three times. Brian Ybarra finished the afternoon with two singles in as many times at-bat and also an RBI, while Collop had a pair of RBIs for his 2 for 4 day.

Wayne also won a cliffhanger from Lincoln Park, 8-7, as Ybarra, who worked the first five innings, got the victory. Ybarra fanned three, walked two and was charged with three runs before Wakefield decided to go with Tony Barber.

Tied at 7-all in the bottom of the seventh, Joe Doyen sparked the Wayne rally with a double, stole second and, after Marc Townsend and Ybarra were intentionally walked to load the bases, Newsted came through with the game-winning single.

Caldwell again had an excellent afternoon as he sliced two hits in three at-bats and also scored two runs; Townsend had a perfect 3-for-3, with a walk and four stolen bases.

"You know in that first round we were losing those one-run games that we are now winning," reiterated Wakefield, "The kids are facing adversity, and coming through like champs."

Romulus sprinters dominate relays

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus High sprint relays teams captured a pair of gold medals at the Grosse Ile state-regional finals, staged on Saturday under a clear sky but chilling weather conditions.

Coach Norb Glover picked Chris Middlebrook, Anson Long, Charles Searcy and Fred Harbor to challenge an outstanding field of 400-meter foursomes. Romulus ruled the 400-meters, posting a winning time of 44.1.

"I felt the kids were up to the challenge," said Glover later. "The competition here was really good. This was a good test for these kids for the state finals."

The Class B state championships will be determined June 1 at Saginaw High School. To qualify for state, a competitor had to finish first or second in a regional event or meet the Michigan High School Athletic Association's times and standards for the event.

Romulus also claimed a victory in the 800-meter relay as Middlebrook, Long, Searcy and Harbor again combined their talents for the gold.

Searcy came within a sliver of a third gold medal. In the 200-meter dash, which finished in a photo finish, officials had to review the videotape of the event to declare the winner. They eventually awarded the medal to the Dearborn Heights Crestwood sprinter.

Both runners hit the tape at the same time, but the officials decided to give Searcy the silver. His second-place time was recorded as 23.1; the winner's was 23.0.

"I vehemently protested the decision," said Glover. "There is no doubt in my mind that Charles won the event. I asked to look at the tape, but was denied the opportunity. We protested, but it obviously didn't do any good. I even asked if I could see the rerun, but they refused."

Searcy earned his fourth medal of the afternoon when he leaped 21 feet, 9 inches to place second in the long jump competition.

Glover and the Eagles focused their attention on the annual Mega Conference, White Division championships. The seven-team division was scheduled to crown a new champ on Tuesday at Romulus High Stadium. (Dearborn Edsel Ford, the defending White Division champ, was elevated to the top tier of the conference, the Mega-Red).

Woodhaven, with a perfect 7-0 record will go into the divisional tournament with the best record and with the stigma as "the team to beat". Ready to do so are Trenton, garnishing a 6-1 record, and the host, Romulus, which is 5-2 on the league year.

Other divisional affiliates include Ypsilanti, Garden City, Lincoln Park, and Taylor Truman.

state," said Carter. "These kids have worked hard to get here, and we all look forward to going to state."

On Tuesday, Carter and his athletes joined five other local and area high schools at Dearborn Edsel Ford to decide which team will earn the coveted Mega-Red Division crown. Belleville, a perennial title contender, faces a challenge from the host, Edsel, which is competing in the "Red" for the first time. (The T-Birds won the White Division a year ago and were awarded a berth in the top tier this season.)

Suddenly, surprisingly Tigers are back in title race

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Belleville is back in the Mega-Red baseball title race.

Last week, Lincoln Park was forced to forfeit its first-round victories due to the use of an ineligible player, and thanks to victories over Garden City and Southgate Anderson, Coach Chris Dessellier and the Tigers find themselves back in the hunt.

The Tigers have three important games earlier this week - Taylor Truman (Monday), Monroe (Tuesday) and Lincoln Park (Wednesday) and needed to win all three to keep their hopes alive.

"Our pitching has come around and we're hitting the ball," said Dessellier, during a telephone interview Sunday night. "We still have a slim chance of salvaging a tie for first place."

Belleville started the week with Derek Dufrane's one-hitter against Garden City. The senior righthander struck out a season's high 10 batters, walked one and posted a 6-0 shutout of the Jaguars. His bid for a no-hitter was ruined by a questionable base hit in the fourth.

Josh Ivan led the Tigers' 11-hit assault as he drilled three hits, a triple and two singles and drove in a pair of runs. Teammate Phil Meadows went 2-for-3, both singles, as did Derek Brooks and Bobby Block.

Belleville also almost allowed Southgate Anderson slip away. The Tigers built up a 10-0 lead, but Anderson came back to make a game of it but dropped the 10-8 decision to the Tigers.

Robichaud looks to playoff

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With a disastrous week and campaign behind them, Robichaud and coach Richard Orsette are looking forward to the Class B playoffs.

The Bulldogs are assigned to the Redford Thurston district where they also will find Detroit Renaissance ready for them.

"We have yet to play up to our potential," said Orsette. "I believe we can surprise our opponents at the district tournament."

Robichaud opened last week with a 15-5 loss to Romulus (See Story on Page 11), and they also were "mercied" by cross-town rival Crestwood, 14-0. The Bulldogs managed to get only one hit, and that came off the bat of Richard Johnson, who singled in the third.

On Friday, River Rouge crushed

Robichaud, 16-1, in an abbreviated game called because of the mercy rule.

Orsette and the Bulldogs will wrap up the regular season this week with two Mega-Gold games. The Bulldogs faced league-leading Fordson on Monday and, on Tuesday, took on former conference rival, Ecorse. Highland Park entertained the Bulldogs on Wednesday in the Mega-Gold's 2002 finale.

Wayne soph sprints to bronze medal

Multi-talented athlete T. J. Dillard turned in a superb performance in the 100-meter dash at the Class A Regional Track & Field Championships conducted on Saturday at Dearborn High School.

Dillard turned in a 10.8 in the very highly-competitive field of 100-meter sprinters to earn a third place and the bronze medal. The 10.8 effort also qualified the Wayne sophomore to compete for the Class A state title in the event.

The Class A state championships will be held on Saturday, June 1, at Rockford High School, just outside of the City of Grand Rapids.

Coach Floyd Carter's 800-meter relay team also earned a shot at the state crown as they qualified by finishing second in the event to Cass Tech. Cass Tech walked off with the gold, while Wayne's Antoine Austin, Henry Love, Darrian Miller and Dillard completed the event in the second best time of 1:33.4 for the silver.

Carter commended his athletes' performances.

"This is the first time in recent years we have qualified anyone for Inkster hosts hoops benefit

Some of the icons of the past professional basketball world will mix it up on the hardwood May 31 in Inkster to raise funds for Inkster High School.

Among the greats who will be showing how the game is played - or was played - are the Hardy Boys (Barry Hardy is in the lineup of Harlem Globetrotters), Victor Deihl, the first American to play in an European League, and others, such as Pierre Hudson, Joe Ballard and Tyrone Orr.

Two games are scheduled: one between the Inkster Old Timers - Deihl, Chuck Payne and Eartha Faust - will take on the Detroit Old Timers - Chet Cash, Hudson and Mike Newman at 5:30 p.m. at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Center, on Middlebelt Road, just north of Michigan Avenue.

In a 7 p.m. match up at the recreation center, the Inkster Alumni, led by Orr, the Hardy Brothers and James Outlaw will clash with the Robichaud Alumni which will feature former stars as Joe Ballard, Bo Squeakie and Mike Aaron.

The audience will also be introduced to the Inkster High's sensational girls basketball team which strung together 40-plus victories before losing in the playoffs. The members of the Inkster High's Boys' District Championship team also will be on hand.

Admission is $10. Those who need further information should contact Victor Deihl.

Western-Lakes title race goes down to wire 3-teams remain in running

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Although they had problems earlier last week, Billy Rabe and Livonia Stevenson put it all together on Friday and shut out title-bound Westland John Glenn, 1-0, to continue the logjam atop of the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Baseball Conference.

The victory over Glenn lifted Stevenson into sole possession of first place in the division, while Coach Todd Duffield's Rockets moved a notch down and are tied with Farmington, both 6-3, for second place. Glenn has one game left before the playoffs. They were scheduled to play on the home diamond against North Farmington on a chilling Monday afternoon.

Stevenson was scheduled to play

Farmington, and a Stevenson loss would again create a three-way tie (that is, if Glenn wins) for first.

"We would go to tie-breakers to determine who is the winner," said Duffield. "But it's a complex situation. I feel that our job right now is to concentrate on North, and then we'll look at what we have."

Glenn placed itself in the state of uncertainty by losing to the Spartans on Friday. Rabe gave up only two hits - both to Ricky Verville (singles in the third and sixth) to walk off the mound with the big victory. His counterpart, Brandon Ajlouny, failed to get the hitting support needed to win this one.

The senior tossed a three-hitter, fanned seven and walked five in taking the heartbreaking loss.

The Rockets did threaten, however. In the sixth, after Verville drilled his second single of the afternoon, Ajlouny hit one back to Rabe, who made an excellent stab of the ball, and managed to recover and turn the grounder into a double play.

In the second inning, with two on, the Westlanders also failed to produce a run when Kyle Rutkowski also hit into a double play.

Stevenson scored what proved to be the winning run in the first inning. Ajlouny gave up a leadoff single to Bill Marsach who proceeded to steal second and, after the Glenn pitcher got the next two batters, he gave up an RBI single to Aaron Marx.

Glenn began the week with an impressive 7-1 victory over Farmington as junior righthander Julian Fraser tossed a three-hitter, notched six strikeouts and walked two, to chalk up the win. The Rockets built up a 4-0 lead after two innings before Farmington scored what proved to be its only run in the bottom of the second.

Ajlouny led the assault on losing pitcher Tony Luttmann as he belted a three-run homer over the right centerfield fence which scored Joe Cichowski, who got aboard on an error, and Aaron Schwartz, who had singled, before him.

Lewis accounted for three of Glenn's 13 hits. He had three singles and a walk and scored once, while Verville finished with a two-run single for one of his two hits.

On Wednesday, Will Kennedy, a junior righthander, disposed of Livonia Churchill, 9-5, as he whiffed four and walked two. The Chargers got to Kennedy for 13 hits, but Glenn responded with 15 and one of those was Lewis's two-run homer in the sixth.

Glenn's Rutkowski had 4-for-4, including a double and three singles. Brian Ceckiewicz also had two singles and three RBIs, and Aaron Schwartz finished with two singles and two RBI off of Churchill's loser John Moriaty.

Glenn split on Saturday with out-of-conference opponent Dearborn. The Pioneers embarrassed Glenn, 10-2, in the first game and the Westlanders came back to take the second game, 3-1, in a marathon 11 inning game that ended when, in the top of the third, Ajlouny tripled, was sacrificed home by Ceckiewicz. The Rockets got an insurance run when Will Massey singled, moved to second on Schwartz's fielder's choice and scored when starting pitcher Rutkowski doubled.

Rutkowski worked the first 10 innings, gave up 10 hits and one second-inning run, struck out 10 and walked one before Duffield put in reliever Kennedy who threw five pitches in the 11th and got the victory. In the opening game loss to Dearborn, Ajlouny collected a single and a double, and Ceckiewicz also carded a pair of singles.

Craig Lewis started on the mound for the Rockets and worked the first four innings, gave up seven of the 10 runs, struck out five and walked one before Fraser finished up.

Romulus enjoys a perfect 3-for-3 week

Eagles begin week with 12-11 record

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus High and Coach Keith Brothers culminated a perfect 4-for-4 baseball week with a stunning 8-0 dubbing of visiting Southfield Lathrup Saturday before a Parents' Night crowd.

For the first time this season, Brothers' Eagles also soared over the .500 mark as they trounced Dearborn Heights Robichaud, 15-5, "merciéd" Highland Park, 21-0, defeated Inkster, 13-4, and then beat Lathrup. The four victories lifted Romulus to an overall 12-11 record. They are 6-4 in the Mega-Gold.

"We have the momentum we wanted for the final week and for the playoffs," said Brothers. "We have three tough games this week, then we head into the playoffs hopefully with the same kind of momentum we had last week."

Brothers started Ron Buckley on the mound against Robichaud and Buckley worked four innings, gave up five runs and six hits before reliever Parris Jackson finished up.

Buckley helped his own cause with a double and a single and three runs batted in. Teammate Rob Rice chipped in with a double and single, while Jacob Mercado came through with two singles and three RBIs. Romulus also got two hits and a RBI from Adam Malloy.

It was no contest after three against Highland Park on Wednesday as the Eagles struck for six runs in the first, added six more in the second, then erupted for nine runs in the third before the officials called it quits.

Jamie Henn pitched three innings of no-hit ball. He also struck out five and walked one for the win.

Steve Moore hammered two home runs and accounted for five runs batted in. Teammate Josh Phillips belted a career first grand slam homer, driving in Henne, Mercado and Mike Murphy before he crossed the plate.

A seven-run second inning lifted Romulus over a respectable Southfield Lathrup team which couldn't hit lefthander Phillips. Phillips fired a one-hitter in 5 2/3 innings on the mound. He also struck out 12 and walked one for the victory.

In that decisive second inning, Buckley and Mercado started things off with base hits, and they pulled a double steal to leave first base open for Adam Malloy. Malloy walked to load the bases.

Buckley scored when the Lathrup pitcher balked, then Melvin Stewart's suicide squeeze resulted in a pair of runs crossing the plate.

Moore's single drove in another run and Phillips' then blasted a triple. Rick Rhinehart was struck by a wild pitch and Buckley, up for the second time in the inning, doubled off of the left field fence to score the final runs.

Earlier in the week, Romulus took on Inkster in a game that the Eagles led 13-4 before the rains forced cancellation of the contest.

Canton wrestling captain joins the Marines

One of the stars for the past four years and a captain of the Plymouth-Canton High School wrestling team has been selected for officer training with the United States Marines.

Doy Demsick, senior wrestling captain, who owns 11 of 17 of the school's wrestling records, has displayed the leadership and the academic know-how the Marines are apparently looking for.

Demsick finished first in the area in a battery of athletic challenges given by the Marines. Competing in physical and academic challenges with literally thousands across the country, Doy was selected as part of 250 students nationwide and five in the State of Michigan to win a NROTC scholarship for the U. S. Marines.

The scholarship will include a full-college ride, tuition, books and a monthly stipend.

Demsick will commence training in August at the University of Michigan's NROTC branch. Upon completion of his college program, Demsick will enter into service in the Marines as a Second Lieutenant. Being an officer in the United States Marines has been a lifelong goal for the Canton High standout.

"This is one step above getting into the U. S. Naval Academy for Doy," said the athlete's father, John Demsick, who also coaches wrestling at the high school. "There he would have had a chance, but no guarantee of going into the Marines.

"This way he will be called 'Midshipman Demsick', along with a combined group of Navy and Marines officer candidates for four years in college training and then enter directly in the Marines, as he wishes."

Coach Demsick said he was proud of his son.

"Doy is a born leader. I know it will work out great for him."

Wayne finishes second-best in Mega-Red golf

Wayne Memorial culminated an outstanding girls' regular golf season by finishing second-best in the Mega Conference.- Red Division.

With Amber Henn setting the pace for the Zebras, Wayne finished 42-strokes behind undefeated Monroe, who was crowned the 2002 Mega-Red champ.

Monroe garnered 361 and combined with its 12-0 regular season record was the undisputed champ of the league meet. Wayne was second-best with 402 (10-2), followed by Dearborn 425 (8-4), Dearborn Edsel Ford 466 (4-8), Belleville (3-9), Ypsilanti 522 (4-8) and Lincoln Park 524 (1-11).

As she has during the regular season Henn led Wayne. She turned in an 89 for 18 holes to finish runner-up overall for the tournament. She was awarded a berth on the All-Conference team. Cindy Diehl, also of Wayne, posted a 93 which earned her a fourth place and a medal.

Wayne also counted the scores of Youmans (108), Laws (113), Fallow (116) and Knight (117).

The Zebras were scheduled to compete in the MHSAA's state regionals last week.

Romulus is seeking girls for hoops camp

Romulus High girls basketball Coach Rhonda McAllister announced last week that she plans to host a girls' basketball camp next month and is seeking prospective players.

The camp will be staged from 1 to 4 p.m. on Monday, June 24, through Friday, June 28, at the Romulus High School Field House. There is a $35 registration fee.

The focus of the camp will be teaching and encouraging correct fundamental skills, while promoting enthusiasm for the game of basketball, according to McAllister, girls' varsity basketball coach. Joining McAllister's coaching staff will be the current coaches plus varsity players.

All campers will receive a camp T-shirt and there will also be awards presented to participants at the end of the camp.

There also will be contests to test acquired skills including free throw competition, hot shot, and 3 on 3. Campers will have the opportunity to enhance their overall game with team play and scrimmages.

For further information, please contact Coach Rhonda McAllister at 532-1008. Or send entry fee, with a waiver of liability to Rhonda McAllister, Romulus High School, 9650 S. Wayne Road, Romulus, Mich. 48174.

Cancer Survivor's will be Celebrating the Rhythms of Life

In early June, over 700 communities throughout the nation and elsewhere will hold celebrations of life as part of the fifteenth annual National Cancer Survivors Day® Celebration. Sunday, June 9 promises to be a wonderful day for Michigan cancer survivors, their family members, friends and health care professionals who will be Celebrating the Rhythms of Life.

The focus of the day will be on the healing power of music. Deforia Lane, Ph.D, Director of the Music Therapy Program at Ireland Cancer Center in Cleveland, Ohio, will give an interactive presentation exploring the relationship between music and wellness. A local drumming circle, Rhythm Quest Drum and Dance Troupe, will greet guests as they enter the event and will perform a special closing ceremony. It will be an afternoon of indoor fun including an information fair on survivorship issues, door prizes, light refreshments and a chance to learn the art of drumming.

This free community event will be held on Sunday, June 9, from 1 to 4 p.m., At Washtenaw Community College's Morris Lawrence Building, 4800 East Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor. Registration is encouraged.

The event is sponsored by the Circle of Care Center Fund, Saint Joseph Mercy McAuley Cancer Care Center and the University of Michigan Comprehensive Cancer Center and is open to the public. For more information and registration please call 1-800-742-2300 category #6275 or access the Internet at www.cancer.med.umich.edu/share/survivorsday.htm.
